

Supervisors help sought to get nursing facility

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has been asked to endorse a request for an investigation into a legislative denial of a certificate of need for 60-bed skilled nursing facility.

Barbara Stewart of Commercial Realty Associates in Gulfport, who represents Southern Health Enterprises, Inc., asked the board for a resolution on the matter Friday morning.

Southern Health Enterprises bought the former Hancock General Hospital building from the county last year and has renovated it into a personal care home for elderly people who are basically ambulatory and not in need of skilled nursing, but do need assistance with such matters as administering medication.

Southern Health Enterprises

officials stated at the time of purchase that plans included addition of a skilled nursing facility if a certificate of need could be obtained.

Requests for a certificate of need must go through the Mississippi Legislature because the state currently has a moratorium on the establishment of new skilled nursing facilities.

Exceptions can be made through legislation when a demonstrated need exists. The supervisors had agreed with Southern Health officials that Hancock County has a need and had pledged assistance in any attempts to get an exception to the moratorium.

According to State Representative J.P. Compretta, who addressed the board with Stewart Friday, a bill authorizing the certificate of need for Hancock County as well as other areas was approved by both the State House of Representatives and the State Senate.

However, the bill was altered at the 11th hour in a joint conference, dropping the Hancock County facility. In addition, a certificate of need request for a Southern Health Enterprises facility in Biloxi was altered to make it a private pay facility unable to accept Medicare or other federally funded programs.

"The deadline was midnight, and this happened at 11 p.m.," Compretta said. "There were a lot of things in Senate Bill 224 but with one exception, everybody else got what they wanted."

Stewart said the bill even included the necessary funding for the Hancock County facility before it was altered.

The Biloxi City Council initially asked for the investigation, she added.

Stewart stated that she had already conferred with State Attorney General Mike Moore because she feels there may have been illegal lobbying involved.

Compretta is on the PEER Committee, a group of legislators who investigate such problems and complaints. He told the supervisors their resolution a reference to that committee to involve PEER in the investigation.

More than anything else, however, the resolution should incorporate the need for additional beds and the economic impact such a facility would have on the community, he added.

The representative said he had planned to reintroduce the bill during the 1990 session.

Compretta said he has heard about efforts to have Governor Ray Mabus include the certificate of need legislation in next week's special session. However, the representative feels it would be an unlikely move because there is controversy involved.

He said the bill faced some stiff opposition in the first place

At 112, church deserves to be called Bay's 'first'

BY D.C. HARVILL
First Baptist churches abound.

First Missionary Baptist Church, however, has a legitimate claim to the numerical designation. It was the first Baptist church—in Bay St. Louis.

Founded in 1877, First Missionary will celebrate its 112th anniversary with a special service at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, April 23.

The anniversary theme is 'Christ the Head, and the Church His Body'. Guest speaker will be the Reverend Alonzo Dees of East Jerusalem Baptist Church in Picayune.

According to a history compiled for First Missionary's 100th anniversary, the church was born when, due to the lack of a Baptist church, Alexander Fox gathered together four others and started the church in his home.

Realizing their fledgling church needed a pastor if it was to prosper, the founders called in the Reverend Taylor Fryerson to be their first pastor.

Under the leadership of the Reverend Fryerson, the small membership was able to construct their first church on Keller Street between Hancock and Third Streets.

After the Reverend Fryerson left for another pulpit, the Reverend Charles Mosley became the church's second pastor. "With great determination, faith, hard work and trust in God," the church, under the Reverend Mosley's guidance, was able to purchase the site at the corner of Sycamore and Third Streets where it presently is housed.

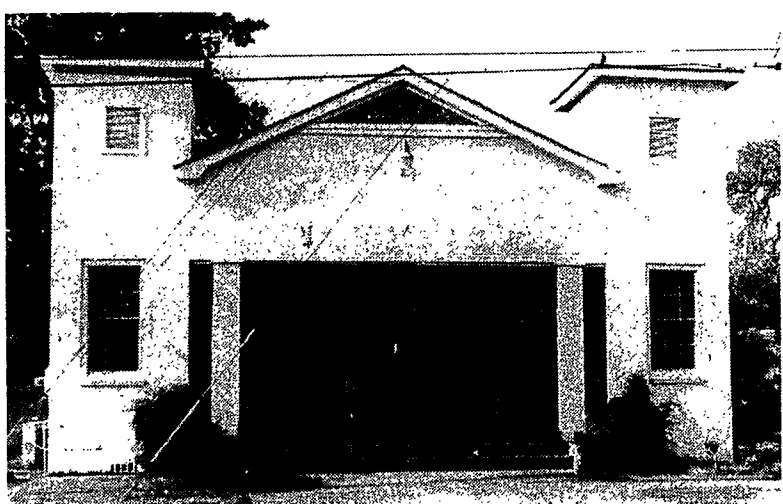

First Missionary has been served by numerous ministers since its early days and, in spite of some setbacks, has continued to prosper and grow.

Only once in its long history, after the church building was destroyed by the 1947 Hurricane, was First Missionary threatened by the prospect of disbanding.

Following that disaster, the Reverend S.T. Peters assumed the pastorate. He was able to keep the congregation together and build a new church house, the present structure, which was completed in April 1950.

From 1964 to 1968, under the Reverend Jessie L. Trotter, an expansion program was undertaken and the church added an educational department, dining facilities, a fellowship hall and a pastor's study.

Currently, the church is served by the Reverend William J. Harper.

North Bay Elementary alters afternoon dismissal route

BY JANET MCQUEEN
North Bay Elementary will implement a new procedure for afternoon dismissal Monday in an effort to enhance the safety of their students.

The new route is an attempt to relieve traffic congestion on Dunbar Avenue from 2:30 p.m., according to North Bay Principal Rodney Fisher.

The procedure will be monitored to determine its efficiency and will be permanently used if it is successful.

The following directions are offered to parents of North Bay students:

- The Alley Road north of the school will be designated as a one-way street from 2 to 3:30 p.m.
- All cars must enter the Alley Road from Dunbar Avenue.

- Students will be picked up at the west end of the school by the double gate at the playground.
- If a child is late meeting his/her ride at the designated pick-up point the parent/guardian should park in the parent parking area west of the pick-up point on the grass adjacent to the playground fence. Your child will be allowed to meet you there.

- The parent parking area will also be available for those parents arriving early to pick up their children.
- Parents arriving early are asked to wait for their children by the gate at the playground.
- In order to save time and speed up pickup of children, we ask that all parents parked on the roadway itself remain in their automobiles.

- On inclement weather days, the student pick-up point will be the breezeway on the Alley Road. See map.
- Car riders will be dismissed from school at 3 p.m. In emergency situations, you may pick up your child earlier than 3 p.m.

- Students riding bus, bicycle, or walking home will leave from the front of the school in the usual manner.
- An automobile accident in February involving a North Bay student prompted the school administration to investigate alternative afternoon dismissal plans to enhance the children's safety.

San Fillippo completes LSU firefighter school

BY DENA BISNETTE

Bay St. Louis firefighter Pam San Fillippo has graduated from a four-week training course at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La.

Completion of the school, known as 1,000-1 School, certifies San Fillippo according to required firefighting standards. She has been with the Bay St. Louis Fire Department since October 1986 and is the second from her department to attend LSU, where her training partner was Nicky Elsensohn of the St. Bernard Fire Department.

She said working with an excellent training partner helped her learn more efficiency and made the school more enjoyable.

Being concerned with firefighting alone for four weeks was quite a learning experience too, she said. San Fillippo has attended a number of other classes and seminars, but said she has never been through anything as intense as 1,000-1 school.

"I think I learned more there in four weeks than in the past nine years," she stated.

Since her certification, only two more Bay St. Louis firefighters remain who have not yet completed schools in Mississippi or Louisiana.

Prior to working for Bay St. Louis, San Fillippo worked for two years at Diamondhead Fire Department and as a registered nurse.

In addition to being a Licensed Practical Nurse, she holds an Emergency Medical Technician-I certification and has experience in ambulance service work.

PAM SAN FILLIPPO

The firefighter is married to Don San Fillippo of Bay St. Louis and is daughter of Dorothy Jordan and granddaughter of Mabel Martin, both of Diamondhead.

Craft artisans featured at Christ Episcopal fair

BY JANET MCQUEEN

A close-up look at area craftsmen at work will be offered at Christ Episcopal Church's second annual Arts and Crafts Show on Saturday, April 22.

Art committee chairman Cynthia Crull said "This is a working craft fair. We will have demonstrations by potters, weavers, spinners, fabric painters and knitters, to name a few."

Approximately 20 craftsmen are expected to participate in the event, which will be staged on the front lawn of the church and in the adjacent Virginia

Hall. Handcrafted items will also be available for sale.

Red beans and rice dinners will be prepared by the Harriett Guild. Lunch will be offered from 11 a.m. until the last beans are served.

For those in search of scrumptious sweets, the Ruth Guild will sell homemade gourmet baked goods throughout the day.

Susan Linscomb is chairman of the event, which will be open to the public from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Proceeds will benefit Christ Church.

Sheriff still trying for radar approval

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department still wants the right to use radar speed detectors.

According to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson, who appeared before the board of supervisors Friday, his personnel are taught to use the equipment at law enforcement training academies, then are not allowed to do so when they return to work.

The sheriff has tried to get authorization for the use of radar for several years and has proposed it as a possible method of reducing accidents, controlling ing traffic on Beach Road and helping to solve other problems.

State Representative J.P. Compretta, who was at the meeting for another purpose, volunteered an explanation of why it is so difficult to get the radar authorization.

Sheriff's departments were originally prohibited from using radar when the sheriffs worked on a fee system and abuses were likely to occur, but current opposition comes from a lack of unity on the issue, the representative said.

The sheriffs are divided on the matter. In the legislature, some legislators want to authorize radar for sheriff's departments, which is allowed for the Mississippi Highway Patrol and local police departments, but some do not.

The strongest opposition comes from the chairman of the transportation committee, who comes from Union County where the local sheriff does not want radar, Compretta said.

He said he could try to get the authorization through a local and private bill in 1990, but it is not likely to pass the transportation committee.

The supervisors agreed that radar would be a useful asset to the sheriff's department but want to delay a resolution on a local and private bill until after the Mississippi Association of Supervisors convention in June.

Peterson said the sheriffs are also having a convention, which is in July, and he would try to get support for radar use during that event.

Reflections On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Too late is unacceptable

Yul Brynner was there on TV, bigger than life as usual, making what was for him a very unaccustomed advertisement: a pitch to stop smoking. Unaccustomed it was, because he was a chain smoker above and beyond almost all chain smokers in sheer volume.

But this time it was different. The public service announcement was canned, of course, as practically all of them are. Yet, this one was rare beyond the mere canning of it. Yul Brynner had made it, knowing that he would be dead of cancer by the time the TV stations got around to showing it to the public.

In fact, that was part of the stipulation, that no showing would be done until the unfortunate sufferer had died. To say the least, it was much more chilling to watch that public service announcement than to watch any horror movie which I have seen.

"Don't make the mistake which I made," droned the ultra-solemn voice. "Stop smoking if you smoke. Do not begin if you don't."

"Too late!" was the only thing I could think. Too late. He was in an exitless trap. Voluntarily, he had put himself in an irreversible position of imprisonment and impending doom.

There are situations in life worse than that, but they are certainly few and far between. Perhaps the only situations appreciably worse would be one in which we have inflicted very grievous harm, even death, on another person, or one in which we have done something morally heinous and disgraceful.

A man barely well into middle age mirrored the same thing which Yul Brynner advertised from the grave. After his first complete physical in years, he was devastated to learn that his lungs had been already wasted by cancer. Hopelessly trapped and saddened, he kept kicking himself for his gross stupidity.

Undoubtedly, you have seen that same curse of "too late" on many a face: the person at death's door, struggling desperately to survive alcohol-induced cirrhosis of the liver; the cripple with ever-creeping amputations who finally realizes that certain foods and weights trigger diabetes; the tentative heart patient who has played roulette too long with cholesterol.

"Too late" has to be the worst conclusion we can make on anything in life, because it says that we have wasted irreversibly, that we have fallen with no chance to get up, that we have grown ill with no hope of recovery, that we have lost and can never win.

It is totally unacceptable that the rest of our life should be haunted, stigmatized, frustrated because we allowed ourselves to be sucked into the torturous sink of "too late."

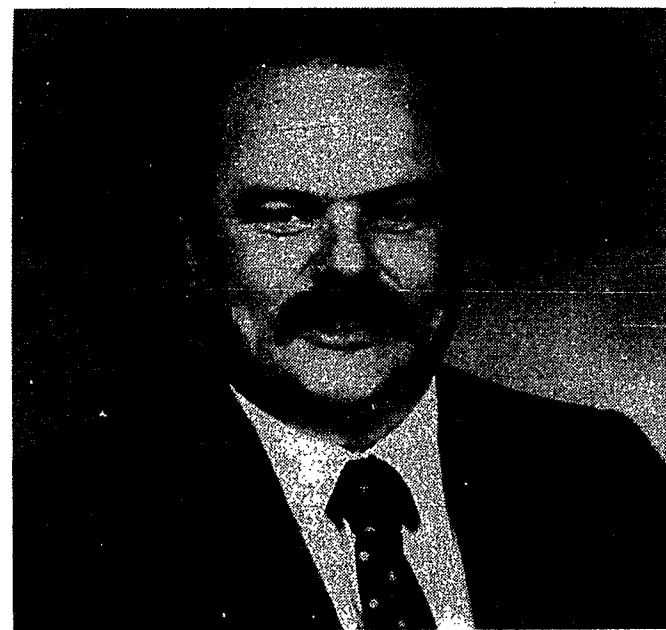

We cannot afford to have "too late" brand the visits we should have made when our mother or father was ill and/or aging, neglected and overlooked now that the years of productivity have given way to weakness, dependency and confusion of mind.

"Why didn't I stay in touch with my relatives and friends while they were alive and well, instead of reaching out to them after they had fallen ill, even died? What have I been doing here at all their wakes, when I failed to give them the benefit of my company and sharing while they could enjoy it?"

The only time we can reverse "too late" is now. Today! This very moment! Any later time or moment can very easily slip into the depressing pigeonhole of what is irretrievably too late.

Thank God for this moment. It may be the eleventh hour in many of your life's relations and duties. Still, if it is not "too late," leap to it, seize it and use it to the full!

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

We know there are still some folks who have not yet mailed their federal income tax forms.

Because April 15 was a Saturday this year, the Internal Revenue Service has extended the individual income tax filing deadline to midnight Monday, April 17.

On the local scene, the latest collection time in Hancock County will be 5 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Post Office on Monday.

It seems that April 15 arrives earlier each year.

Many motorists who travel Lower Bay Road are concerned about the road's safety.

Emphasis on patrolling is now in effect by the sheriff's office to enforce the speed limit. There also is a group of concerned residents collecting signatures who are offering some suggestions to help reduce the hazardous conditions on the road.

Lower Bay Road is a vital link to several communities and it is encouraging to see our elected officials and so many residents taking action toward solving a problem that should concern us all.

It is good to see people working together, because that is what it takes to accomplish anything.

The removal of traffic signs, placed for the public's safety, along Lower Bay Road also has become a problem; making an already hazardous roadway more dangerous.

The cuprits who remove these vital signs need to be caught and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

A little 'icing' might be to have them march up and down the road on foot collecting litter, so everyone can see who the culprits are.

As we stated earlier, by working together the problems of Lower Bay Road can be solved.

There will be a 'Just for Fun' dog show at 2 p.m. this afternoon at Hotel Reed Nursing Home, Bay St. Louis.

There will be trophies for the winners in the event sponsored by the nursing home.

The show is open to dogs of any type. There is a donation of $1 per entry. Dogs will be judged on general appearance and grooming, personality and obedience.

It sounds like it will be a fun time for pet owners along with some entertainment for the residents of Hotel Reed.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

National commission can stiffen drug trafficking penalties

Senator Thad Cochran says he believes a new national commission can help strengthen criminal penalties and reduce drug trafficking in the nation's schools. Senator Cochran has been named by Senate Republican Leader Robert Dole of Kansas as one of 26 members of the newly-created National Commission on Drug-Free Schools.

The commission, authorized by Congress last year, is charged with making recommendations to help schools and colleges rid their campuses of drug use and trafficking.

"I am honored that Senator Dole has chosen me to serve on this new National Commission on Drug-Free Schools," Cochran said.

In making the appointment, Senator Dole commented, "Thad Cochran is one of the most respected members of the Senate. His leadership and credibility plus his commitment to a drug-free America will be tremendous additions to this commission."

Cochran said, "We need to design a national policy that will enforce the laws we have and pass new laws" to strengthen criminal penalties against drug use and trafficking, particularly involving schools.

"Drug use is a tragedy in our schools," he said, "and also in our homes" for the families involved. "We need to concentrate our efforts to keep our schools free of drugs and drug trafficking." He charged that those who sell drugs on school campuses seek to "exploit students" by ensnaring them as users and pushers.

The 26-member commission will be co-chaired by Education Secretary Lauro Cavazos and William Bennett, director of National Drug Control Policy. Each of them will appoint eight members to the panel. In addition to Senator Dole's appointment of Cochran and Senator Dan Coats (R-Ind.), Congressional leaders will name six other members.

NEW BAY TRASH DUMP?—We have heard several complaints recently about what appears to be a dump developing at the intersection of St. Charles and Third Streets in Bay St. Louis. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bay St. Louis man wants right-to-smoke protected

Dear Editor,

This letter is to let our elected officials know that I smoke and vote. And I am sure a lot of other people do.

I have seen on the news that Hinds County has put a ban on smoking in public places. I know that some public places in Hancock County already have no smoking. But let's not go all the way.

If elected officials are not trying to ban our gun rights, why want to ban our smoking rights. What will be next—holding hands in a public place?

Do the elected officials realize that in one month Mississippi smokers paid $10,696,699 in state and federal taxes on cigarettes? This is the most recent monthly figure from Mississippi Smokers Pamphlet. Now that's a lot of tax dollars.

I am not saying that our elected officials in Hancock County are trying to take away our rights. I just hope that they don't.

Efforts to restrict or ban smoking in public places are based on the claim that environmental tobacco smoke (ETS) is hazardous to the healthy nonsmoker.

The fact is that there is a lack of scientific evidence to support this claim. It has been widely acknowledged in the scientific literature that the evidence relating ETS to alleged health effects is inconsistent, inconclusive and that much more research needs to be done.

The U.S. National Research Council's 1986 report on ETS stressed 21 times in 12 pages the need for further research.

In a November 1988 newsletter, The American Cancer Society said, "Currently available evidence is not sufficient to conclude that passive or involuntary smoking causes lung cancer in nonsmokers."

So what is the problem?

The one thing that matters to me and should to you is the Constitution of The United States. Read this document and the amendments. Read about what an executive order really is. Read and learn how laws are made in this country.

What I am saying is that things are changing very rapidly. So read, listen, learn, ask questions and keep an eye on these folks.

Because right or wrong, our individual freedoms are being "restructured" and only you have control through your vote to insure you see the laws you want and stop those you don't want. So stand up for your rights.

Thank you
Jerry Kennedy Jr.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

Now that the dust has started to settle following the 1989 legislative session, it seems that some very good laws will emerge, barring any vetoes from the Governor's office.

One bill Governor Mabus has signed into law would require school districts to levy minimum taxes for support of public schools statewide and provide additional subsidies to school districts that are consolidated.

The Mississippi Economic Council has long supported equal funding for the state's school districts, which renews Mississippi's commitment to an improved system of education.

The new law, which goes into effect in 1990, provides grants from the state to poorer districts that cannot meet a minimum level of funding. Cost to the state will be $17 million. Many of the school districts will be required to increase local tax millage.

School districts that are consolidated into one in each county are provided with an additional $36-per-student grant from the state. This will cost the state about $4.1 million.

School children in Mississippi are entitled to receive a quality education, no matter what part of the state they live in.

FROM THE CAPITOL

By Governor Ray Mabus

Full-time Parole Board needed to ensure safety

If someone you know were maimed or killed by a prisoner who was paroled too soon, how would you feel? Words could not describe the hurt, anger and grief.

It is the state's duty to do everything it can to prevent something like this from ever happening, and that is why we need a full-time Parole Board.

Every day we postpone action on this matter, we are needlessly endangering the lives of Mississippians. Every day we delay, we increase the number of citizens who could be harmed.

We must do all we can to prevent another tragedy such as that of Linda Grantham of Jackson, who was paralyzed for life after being shot by a person who should have never been paroled.

The $3 million in damages she received will never help her walk again. It will never replace her loss or the loss of her family.

That is one reason I have asked the Legislature to return to Jackson for a few days in a special session this month. Mississippi needs a full-time Parole Board to make sure—as best it can—that only people truly deserving of parole get it, and that dangerous criminals stay behind bars.

Unfortunately, there are not guarantees that an ex-prisoner will not commit crime again. Our prison system works hard to keep that from happening, but ultimately no one can predict what an individual will do once released from prison.

What state government can do is make sure that those responsible for deciding paroles are given the resources to do the job properly. That means establishing a full-time board.

In fact, the Legislature strongly supported a bill creating a full-time parole Board during the regular legislative session that ended earlier this month. Unfortunately, all the details could not be worked out.

During the regular session, attempts were made to put arbitrary restrictions on persons eligible to serve on a full-time Parole Board. These restrictions had no bearing on the qualifications of someone serving on the parole board.

Such restrictions are dangerous and unnecessary.

There is already legislative oversight on appointments to the Parole Board—they must be approved by the state Senate. That is the appropriate way to deal with these appointments.

The real issue at hand—the issue on which the Legislature has spent most of its time—is protecting the citizens of Mississippi people by creating a full-time Parole Board.

There continues to be overwhelming support for a full-time board, and I am optimistic that the Legislature will quickly approve this important bill.

We owe Mississippians that much.

Mississippi's unemployment rate declines

"This February, 13,000 more Mississippians were working than were employed last month, dropping the state's unemployment rate to 8.7 percent," said Linda Ross Aldy, executive director of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

This rate, which is seven tenths percentage point below January's rate of 9.4 percent, compares to the national jobless rate of 5.6 percent.

Factors contributing to this decline include increased activity in the manufacturing industry, with businesses gearing up for the production of spring merchandise and suppliers in the agricultural and construction trades preparing for spring orders.

Overall, manufacturing provided 240,100 jobs, up 900 from January and more than 4,700 over February, 1988.

Nonmanufacturing also reported an increase for February contributing a total of 659,400 jobs. This figure represents 1,200 more jobs than last month and an increase of 20,200 more than in February, 1988.

Divisions in nonmanufacturing that reported the most significant gains are the government, which includes public education, and also jobs in the growing service industry. The wholesale and retail trade divisions reported a slight decline which is normal for this time of year.

In a total labor force of 1,148,600, the number of Mississippians who were employed stood at 1,048,500, reflecting the 13,000 increase over January, and a rise by 6,900 over last February.

"Continued improvement in Mississippi's employment is expected next month as weather conditions should continue to improve allowing for increased activity in both the construction and agricultural industries," said Aldy.

It's time for The Big Spring Cleaning.

There are a number of things I want to do when the weather gets nice but I'm not sure cleaning is one of them. As a matter of fact, I'm absolutely certain it's not.

My husband Joe tells me I do all right as far as keeping my house clean, but I'm not that domestic. I've noticed, too, that the minute Spring arrives, cleaning gets harder.

The plants get hyperactive and there's all this pollen all over everything. I let my dogs out for five minutes; they have black fur when they leave and when they come back, they're yellow.

I prefer open windows so my window sills, formerly covered with dust because one thing I don't do is dust, also turn yellow. Screens may keep out flies and mosquitos, but they still let in gnats and pollen.

Maybe pollen is the reason The Big Spring Cleaning became a tradition.

Another part of cleaning that occurs with the weather change is the exchange of clothing. For Joe, that means sticking a few jackets and sweaters in the back of his closet and bringing the short-sleeved shirts back to the front. The whole procedure takes him two minutes.

For me and other women who collect sweaters or like wool skirts, the word "procedure" is a little more appropriate.

When I make the big closet changeover, it takes a whole weekend. I stack everything outside the closet and I mean everything, then vacuum the floor and start from scratch. It used to drive Mom nuts. Now it makes Joe crazy.

One of my biggest problems with cleaning is my tendency to put off the real thorough stuff until the change of the seasons, which, because this is the Coast, occurs only twice a year instead of four times a year.

I give Joe my sad line about having a job, going to graduate school and trying to manage a household all at once, then throw in the amount of time I'm spending on whatever my current project happens to be. He pretends to buy it, and I don't have to vacuum the drapes.

You know, I have met people who actually vacuum their drapes. They don't have a speck of lint on their carpets or furniture upholstery, their hand towels in the bathroom are always clean, their houseplants never leak and their poodles never shed.

Even their children never get dirty, and they do everything all the other kids do. How do you stay clean when you're climbing trees?

These people also have kitchens clean enough to use as an open-heart surgery operating room. I never even see little grains of escaped sugar on the tray under the antique silver tea service, which shines like an automobile headlight.

What I admire most about them is that you never see one, even after a rousing game of tennis, with a hair out of place, a wrinkle in their clothes or a spot on anything, event the poodle.

I haven't even figured out how these people live so neatly, then they tell me they have to take a weekend off from golf for The Big Spring Cleaning. Mother Nature gifted these folks by making them impeccably neat; what in the world are they going to clean?

My Big Spring Cleaning is always complicated by things totally incompatible with cleaning. For example, I also like to plant flowers, which means I track dirt into the house no matter what I'm wearing on my feet. My dogs always find the only mud puddle in existence during a drought, then want to come indoors to eat, and they always shed.

I'm a bit like the dogs. Mother Nature did not provide me with the gift of being neat. I can look fantastic when I leave the house, but 10 minutes later my hairdo wants to do its own thing and one of my shirt cuffs is unbuttoned. And, you can bet I sat down on an unmade bed or linty couch to put my shoes on.

When I clean, it's in self-defense. I'm fighting the pollen, or the pet hair in the carpet or the floor where I dropped the peanut butter sandwich face down. I live living in a clean house but I prefer messing it up to major cleaning.

Maybe one day one of these neat people will tell me their secrets, or one of those advice books will say something actually usable. Maybe I'll take a weekend off for The Big Spring Cleaning, and just hope I can stick to routine maintenance cleaning until Fall gets here.

You know, I think I'd like it better if the tradition became The Big Spring Shopping instead of The Big Spring Cleaning, but I'd still have to rearrange my closet to make room for my new things.

Dear Friends of Ward Four:

Let me introduce myself. My name is Burt Taylor and I am 48 years old. My mother is Zola Osbourn Taylor and my father was Bill Taylor. My maternal grandparents are the late Edwin Osbourn and Edna Tomasich Osbourn both lifelong residents of Bay St. Louis. My paternal grandparents are the late Charles and Ella Taylor of Houston, Texas. I have one brother, Bill who is married to Lila Ladner. They live on St. Charles Street. I also have one sister, Lana who is married to Alan Noonan. They live on Felicity Street. I am married to the former Carolyn Lively of Pass Christian. We have two children, Jacqueline and David. Jacqueline, 19, presently works at Winn Dixie and plans to attend PRC in the Fall. David, 14, is an eighth grader at Bay Jr. High. We reside at 438 Pecan Park Drive.

I graduated from Bay High School in 1959. I served two years active duty in the U.S. Navy. I am a member of the American Legion and the VFW. After my service time I earned an associate of arts degree from Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College.

My working career has been mainly in construction and engineering related fields. For the past five and one half years I have been employed by W.C. Fore Trucking, Inc. of Gulfport as General Manager.

Enough about me and my family, let me address the issues as I see them. May 2, 1989 is an important date. It is election day for city officials in many cities on the Coast including Bay St. Louis. There will be some definite changes made in City Government in Bay St. Louis. New faces with new ideas. We are soon to see one change with the arrival of a new mayor at City Hall. Just recently two of our distinguished City Council members who were both in their second terms, chose to move on to County Government and were successful. Their replacements have hardly been in office long enough to implement their policies. The incumbent Ward Four councilman also opted to move on to County Government but was unsuccessful. But regardless of the outcome, it is obvious that four out of six opted for change in our city's government. That is an astonishing two-thirds majority.

I TOO WOULD LIKE TO BE A PART OF THAT CHANGE. I AM EAGER TO ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE. I AM A NEW FACE AND IN MY VIEW, HAVE SOME NEW AND FRESH IDEAS. BUT I'LL LET YOU DECIDE FOR YOURSELF. LET ME ASK YOU A FEW BASIC QUESTIONS.

1. Have you ever had an idea, a viewpoint, or even a complaint that you would like to have voiced at a city council meeting but could get no one to respond?
2. How many ward meetings have been held in Ward Four to get the people's opinion that you can recall?
3. When was the last time you were given the right to vote on a major issue that would have a direct effect on the future of your community.

IF YOU SHOULD CHOOSE TO ELECT ME AS YOUR COUNCILMAN, I WILL:

1. Be your eyes and ears at City Hall.
2. Seek your ideas and viewpoints.
3. Conduct ward meetings to keep you informed on what is going on and to find what you want in your community.
4. I will strive hard to seek this information so that my vote at City Hall, as often as possible, will be in favor of the majority of my constituents.

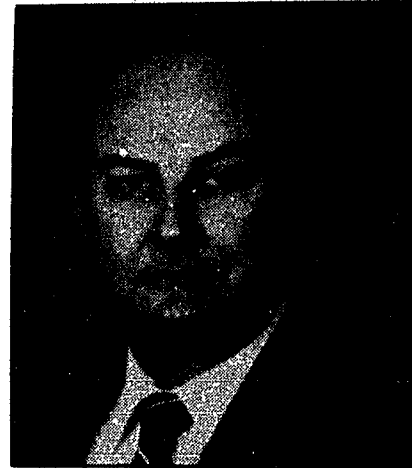

IN CLOSING, I WOULD LIKE TO SAY ONCE AGAIN THAT I AM EAGER TO ACCEPT THIS CHALLENGE OF CHANGE WHICH SEEMS TO BE INEVITABLE. LET'S FOLLOW THIS DIRECTION THAT OUR CITY SEEMS TO BE GOING US IN. NEW FACES AND NEW IDEAS.

TAXES: I will use your tax dollars wisely. I worked for you for 8½ years without a tax increase. This is a proven record NOT A POLITICAL PROMISE.

UTILITIES: Our city presently has some of the HIGHEST RATES in SOUTH MISSISSIPPI. We must stop these needless increases and lower our rates and minimums.

EDUCATION: Today's youth is tomorrow's future. We must make available the best education possible. I will ask our local legislators for a bill to elect our school board members, making them accountable to you, the parents and taxpayers.

LAW ENFORCEMENT: Drugs have become our No. 1 problem: Drugs lead to other crimes. We must work with other agencies to "re-establish a drug task force."

Morreale enters Bay mayor's race

Real estate manager Martin Morreale has announced his candidacy for mayor of Bay St. Louis.

Morreale, 41, is a Republican who will run in the June 6 election against the winner of a democratic race between Edward Favre and Larry Bennett.

Morreale, a lifelong resident of Bay St. Louis, said the theme of his campaign is "Return City Hall to All its Citizens."

He plans to operate the city in the same manner as a business if he is elected, to keep politics out of it and give the government back to its people.

He also plans to support social programs for youth and development of full-time jobs.

The candidate is a graduate of St. Stanislaus and obtained his bachelor of science in business administration from University of Southern Mississippi.

He is a former member of Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission, Gulf Coast Easter Seal Society, Bay-Waveland Jaycees and American Banking Institute. He has served as past Bay St. Louis chairman for American Cancer Society, past director of the Easter Seal Society and advisor to Biloxi Boy Scout Explorers post 215.

In Biloxi, he was also a member of Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Community Concert Association and Edgewater Merchants Association.

Morreale is a former vice president and commercial loan officer for First Mississippi National Bank's Gulf Coast Division; an account executive and branch coordinator of tax investments for Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc.; and property management and business analyst for small and medium-sized companies for George S. May International, based in Chicago.

"My training qualifies me for the mayor's position. I am equipped with the special skills and knowledge necessary to solve the city's problems quickly, objectively and with complete competence and integrity," the candidate said.

"I am experienced in the kind of sound fiscal management we need to get the most out of every tax dollar spent by the city."

MSU HALL OF FAME—George Paul of Bay St. Louis is among 33 seniors and graduate students named to the 1988-89 Mississippi State University Hall of Fame. Students were chosen on the basis of academic excellence and participation in campus leadership activities.

New approach to horse training taught at USM

A relatively new "Team" method of training horses will be taught during a University of Southern Mississippi seminar and clinic planned next month.

Internationally-known horse trainer Linda Tellington-Jones will lead a "hands-on" horse training workshop May 20-27 at the USM Equestrian Center. She will introduce instruction on the "Tellington-Jones Equine Awareness Method," (TEAM) an alternative method of training horses that focuses on the nervous system.

Team training overcomes common resistance in horses, such as bucking or flighty behavior, by replacing them with behaviors that soon become good habits.

Horses completing the program can be expected to have rapid and permanent changes in personality, behavior and performance.

The horse training methods to be taught at the clinic and seminar are based on a method used to treat humans for chronic pain, paralysis and spasticity.

Tellington-Jones studied for four years under Dr. Moshe Feldenkrais, a physician who specializes in treating these conditions in humans. Subsequently, Tellington-Jones realized that a similar approach could be applied to horses.

Tellington-Jones developed ways to relax the horse, identify pain and take the animal through a series of training obstacles that increase limberness, coordination and/or other factors before a saddle and rider are added.

The instructor has authored several books on horse training, including "Physical Therapy for the Athletic Horse" and "An Introduction to the Tellington-Jones Equine Awareness Method."

In 15 countries, she has won competitions in three-day eventing, English and Western pleasure and equitation, side-saddle, dressage, jumping, steeple-chasing and endurance-riding.

The cost for full-time clinic students is $800, or $600 for day students. Enrollment is limited and pre-registration is required.

The two-day seminar, to be held May 20-21, will provide demonstrations and detailed explanations of Team methods. The cost of the seminar is $80 for full-time students and $65 for part-time students.

Patriots claim soccer district championship

A Bay Area Youth Soccer team, the Patriots, won the District Four Championship for under-10 girls in Ocean Springs last weekend.

The Patriots opened the tournament Saturday morning by defeating the Showgirls from Gulfport 4-0 in a well played game.

In a hard-fought contest that afternoon, they bested the Long Beach Golden Girls 2-1.

"That was one of our toughest games of the year," said Coach Bernard Tusa.

Sunday afternoon, the Patriots played host-team Ocean Springs, defeating them 8-0.

Ocean Springs had played outstanding soccer all season; having lost only one game since play began in September.

For allowing no goals scores Tusa cited Alicia Gavagnie, Andie Fillingame, Kathryn Scaife, Brianne Tuttle and Rachael Perniciaro for outstanding defensive play.

For scoring 14 points in three games, the coach credited Amanda Kingston, Casey Bernard, Lauren Tusa, Meredith Quinlan, Krissy Debenport and Melissa Carver.

The Patriots, sponsored by Bernard Construction, now are looking forward to the state championship next month in Jackson.

Sea Camp set for summer

Gulf Coast Research Laboratory will sponsor its Project Marine Discovery Sea Camp again this summer at the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi, according to Dr. Sharon H. Walker, coordinator of educational programs.

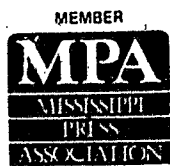

Sea Camp, a week-long day camp program inaugurated last year for children ages 6-14, uses boat trips, field excursions, hikes, arts and crafts, laboratory demonstrations, films, aquarium tours and hands-on activities to acquaint students with the marine environment and coastal resources.

Sessions for children ages

6-12 are scheduled for June 12-16, June 19-23, July 10-14, July 17-21, Aug. 7-11 and Aug. 21-25. Two sessions will include 13-14-year-olds as well, June 19-23 and Aug. 7-11.

Four instructors, four teaching assistants and four junior counselors will comprise the teaching staff for each session. Each session will be limited to 100 participants.

Applications and additional information are available at the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi (374-5550) or the administrative offices of Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs (875-4200).

CONSUMER UPDATE

By Janet K. Lukens
Area Consumer
Management Specialist
Are you frustrated by waiting weeks or even longer for Medicare reimbursement of medical expenses? You may have filed Medicare forms when your other insurance should have been billed first. You can avoid unnecessary delays in receiving payment for your medical bills if you know the situations in which Medicare is the secondary payer.

If you continue to work after age 65 or are the spouse 65 or older of a worker and are covered by an employer health plan, the employer health plan pays first. You should first bill the plan, and then bill Medicare only if the employer plan does not pay in full.
Under the law, employers with 20 or more employees are required to offer the same health benefits protection to workers and spouses 65 and older as is offered to younger workers. However, if a beneficiary rejects the employer plan, Medicare becomes the first payer. In this case, the employer is not allowed to offer Medicare supplemental or 'Medigap' coverage.

If a person is under 65 and eligible for Medicare as a disability beneficiary, and is also covered by an employer health plan that covers 100 or more employees of one employer, Medicare is the second payer. A person should bill the employer group plan first.

If a person's Medicare coverage is based on permanent kidney failure, Medicare will be the second payer for up to the first 12 months. After that, Medicare becomes the first payer.

Medicare pays second if a person is in an automobile accident and (1) his or her (or the other driver's) automobile insurance pays, or (3) liability insurance pays. However, in the case of liability insurance, a person may file a claim with Medicare first. Medicare will get its payment back when the liability insurance pays.

REVIEWING 'COAST ENCOUNTERS'—Hancock County Chamber of Commerce student directors review plans for 'Coast Encounters' which begins with a ribbon cutting today at Edgewater Plaza. The event involving schools in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River Counties is a Space-Age Adventure in Science Literacy for the Mississippi Gulf Coast sponsored by NASA's community education division. Checking the many activities are from left, Libby Roland, chamber executive director;

Randy Castello, chamber president; Marth-a King, seated, chamber secretary; Richard Gleber, St. Stanislaus; Shelly Weidman, Bay Senior High; Justin Taylor, Coast Episcopal High; Allison Miller, Our Lady Academy; and Jill Forrest, Hancock North Central. The special educational program will run through May 5 with all types of displays and numerous speakers visiting the 138 schools in the four counties. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

A NASA astronaut and U.S. Rep. Larkin Smith will be leading coastians in a 2 p.m. celebration April 16 at Edgewater Mall in Biloxi to kick off 'Coast Encounters,' the three-week NASA community involvement program for the Gulf Coast.

Astronaut Navy Lt. Cmdr. Ken Bowersox will be on hand for the opening festivities to unveil the largest indoor/outdoor NASA exhibit ever to come to the state.

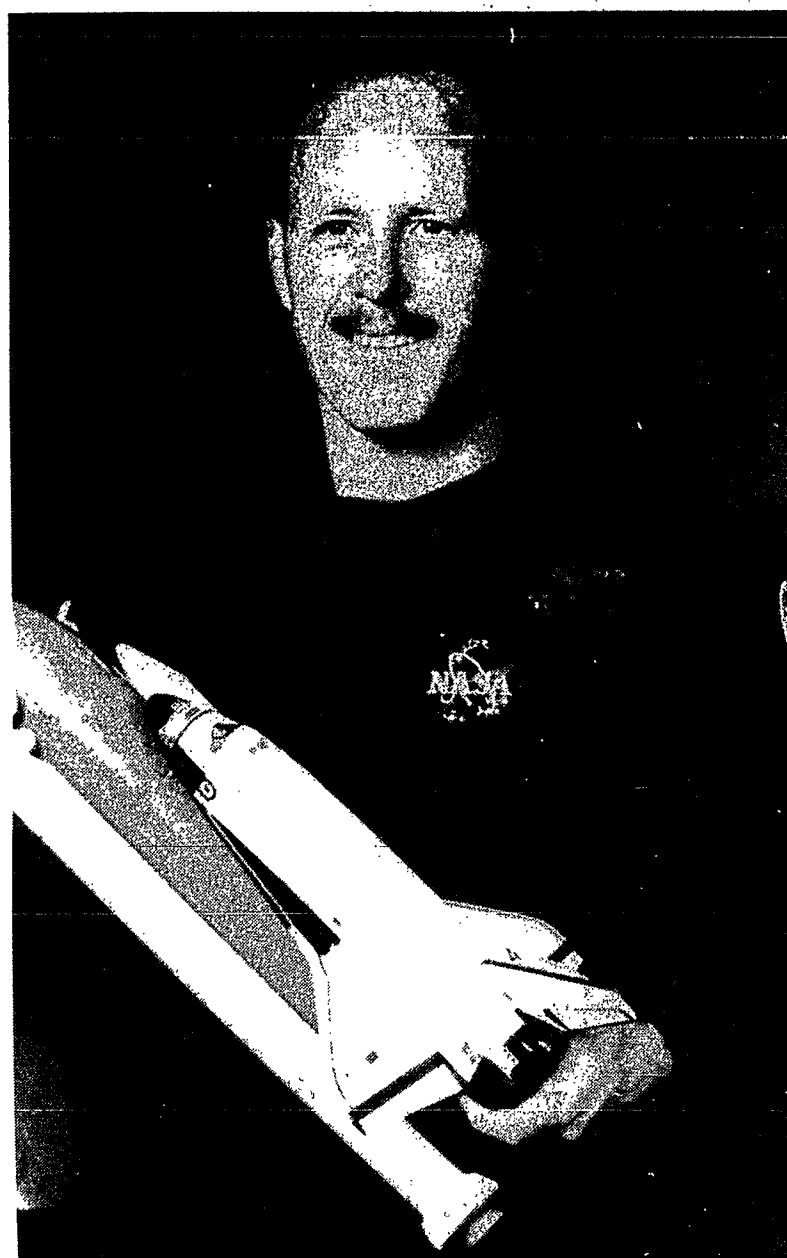

The exhibit, on display at Edgewater until the conclusion of the coastwide education program May 5, will highlight such displays as a 1/15th scale Space Shuttle stack on a mobile launch platform, spacecraft from Mercury, Gemini and Apollo programs, a space telescope and moon rocks.

Dr. Robert Brown, director of Education Affairs at NASA Headquarters, will join in the festivities as will John C. Stennis Space Center Director Roy Estess. Charles Beasley, Community Development at Mississippi Power Company and member of the steering committee responsible for organizing Coast encounters will serve as master of ceremonies.

Bishop Joseph Howze of the Catholic Diocese of Biloxi will also participate in the event, in addition to the Bayou View Junior High School Band and the Gulfport High School Marine ROTC Color Guard.

Drawings for door prizes will be made during the opening-day celebration, and scholarships to Space Camp in Huntsville, Ala., will be presented to the grand prize winners of the school poster and literary contests. Also, the names of the two Coast teachers will be drawn to receive scholarships to the adult Space Camp.

The April 16 event at Edgewater also kicks off the opening of other NASA exhibits at the Singing River Mall in Gautier, Pearl River Community College in Poplarville and Bay St. Louis High School.

According to Community Involvement Program officials, the entire thrust of Coast Encounters is to raise public and student interest in math and science education and the importance these areas play in the ever-increasing high-tech society.

Through Community Involvement Programs such as this, NASA focuses the resources of the entire space agency on a particular community to introduce students to the challenges of science and technology careers.

Already for Coast Encounters NASA aerospace lecturers from across the country are booked to speak to students in more than 110 schools in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties, and presentations are scheduled for civic organizations and businesses in all four counties.

In addition, 10 teacher workshops are on the agenda, along with three public seminars, two pace cruises on the Pride of Mississippi and a myriad of other event.

JIM MCMURTRY

McMurtry addresses school board

Jim McMurtry, NASA Education Coordinator for John C. Stennis Space Center, discussed the "Coast Encounters" program, in which NASA and other agencies will provide exhibits, speakers and workshops at all of the Gulf Coast's 138 schools in Bay St. Louis last week.

McMurtry, in an appearance before the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board, commended the work being done by the schools, the communities and committees involved.

"It doesn't take much to make a party here, and that's what it is—a big party, a big celebration," he said, calling the program "the biggest community involvement program NASA has ever had."

Lift spirits with color

Other than interaction with the people in our lives, few things will influence our moods as much as the colors details in our homes, we can lift our spirits, as well as our guests' spirits, without much effort in the long run.

Try brushing or sponging several coats of paint (warm colors only) on the inside of paper lamp shades. Soft pinks, peaches and apricots are especially effective and the softening effect takes years off the faces of people sitting nearby.

Arrange a collection of colorful pottery in a basically neutral room to add interest and color. Glazed terra-cotta from Mexico will add warmth, blue and white pottery will add elegance, while a collection of old pottery will add personality.

Paint an old piece of furniture (choose one of little value) an eye-catching color and put it in a dark corner to brighten up the whole room.

Spray paint a group of inexpensive baskets a cheerful color and use them for open shelf storage.

Flowers used as a single bright accent can dramatically change a basically neutral or lone-colored room. Blooming plants add color throughout the house, and they last much longer than cut flowers.

Area rugs can add color to a room. By choosing a less expensive rug rather than an investment rug, you can afford to select something you might not want to live with forever but that adds just the spark your room needs right now. For example, rag rugs make a gentle and warm contribution to nearly all color schemes.

Painted canvas, plywood or fabric covered screens can add pattern, color and/or texture to a room. The easiest way to create a screen is by stretching and applying fabric to stretchers purchased at an art supply store. Three or more of these panels hinged together and placed in a corner can add sparkle and height, as well as create additional hidden storage. For screens to be truly effective, they should be at least six feet in height.

Consider painting the inside of your closets, pantries and kitchen cabinets in bold colors related to your color schemes. You may be the only one to see and enjoy these colors, but it could make the chores related to keeping these spaces orderly more tolerable.

Food can act as a color accent in rooms where it is being stored, prepared or served. For parties, food can create beautiful and festive color accents. Arrangements of fruits and vegetables used alone or mixed with fresh flowers make colorful and attractive centerpieces.

CAROL ANN LADNER

Canned fruits and vegetables in clear containers stored in view can add a colorful touch to any kitchen.

Adding brightly colored towels, potholders and other sewables to a one-color scheme can bring a kitchen to life.

A white or neutral bathroom can be changed quickly with additional colorful sets of towels. Spare sets in varying colors allow a quick change every wash day.

St. Clare to celebrate 25 years in education

Special to the Echo
Sunday, April 23, St. Clare School will celebrate 25 years of Catholic education in Waveland.

A Mass of Thanksgiving will be offered by Most Reverend Bishop Joseph Howze. Many of the former pastors and clergy will concelebrate.

St. Clare Catholic Church was established as a parish in 1919, having as its first resident pastor the Reverend Michael J. Costello who served for 43 years.

On Aug. 17, 1969 Hurricane Camille destroyed the newly built school plus the church, rectory and convent.

The people of St. Clare met the challenge of rebuilding in faith. So, just five weeks after the hurricane, trailers and tents were used to reopen St. Clare School. During this time the school was rebuilt and in 1970 a new school was opened.

Every effort was made to begin again the search for truth and learning so that St. Clare could offer its students the best education ever. The following letter was sent to Father John O'Brien from Bishop Brunini congratulating him on the opening of St. Clare School.

Principals were Sr. Ruth Angelette, Sr. Mary Hyacinth Flynn, Sr. Elaine Becnel and Sr. Jane Bircher.

As we reflect over the past 25 years we find St. Clare School continues to strive to live up to the goals of spiritual and academic excellence. Seeds have been sown, and with the constant efforts to keep faith alive, St. Clare looks forward to many years ahead.

Dear John:

Many thanks to you for your kind letter of Feb. 2. We are indeed more than jubilant that you have secured the Dominican Sisters to staff St. Clare School in 1964. This is a real milestone in the history of education in our Coastal area, and I am sure has wonderful possibilities for the future. Heartiest congratulations on your tireless efforts to secure these Sisters!

Your zeal for the work of the Church, I am sure, has benefited not only your own parish but is extending its good influence to the other priests along the Coast and throughout the Diocese.

Looking forward to the pleasure of seeing you some time soon, and with all good wishes, I remain

Sincerely in Christ,
Joseph B. Brunini
Auxiliary Bishop of Natchez-Jackson

THE SHAKESPEARE MYSTERY

"What's in a name?" Great thinkers through the decades have had their doubts about the true identity of Shakespeare. Was he the Bard of Avon? Or, perhaps someone else is the real author of the dramatic masterpieces attributed to him.

Now, nearly 400 years after his death, the identity of England's greatest playwright is once again the subject of debate.

'Frontline' with Judy Woodruff at 9 p.m., Tuesday, April 18, on Mississippi ETV, investigates the controversial theory that Edward de Vere, the 17th Earl of Oxford, a poet and intimate of Queen Elizabeth I, was the real bard and author of the plays and sonnets "whose every word doth almost tell my name."

Following the investigation into 'The Shakespeare Mystery' at 10, 'Slow Fires' addresses the threats faced by libraries and archives around the world, including fire, flood and the insidious decay of slow deterioration.

Jaycees plan Spring Fest

The Bay-Waveland Jaycees will host a Spring Festival Sunday April 30 at St. Augustine Seminary Field, US 90, Bay St. Louis.

Scheduled events include a volleyball tournament with 10 teams participating (entry fee $25 per team). Format will be single elimination, with each team playing the best two out of three. Proceeds from this event will go to Hancock Industries. For information, call Candy Siewert at 467-0642.

A truck and car show will offer trophies and 'best overall' rating for vehicles in several categories, including truck, mini-truck, four-wheel drive, and four car groups. For additional information, contact Ed or Kathy Pernicaro at 467-7013.

Arts and crafts space will be available at $10 per booth. The deadline to reserve space is April 26. For information, call Mike Favre at 467-9776.

Music will be provided by WQID radio. Food items will include crawfish, hamburgers, hot dogs and more.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

When the appetite asks roast beef and the budget answers "burger"—don't despair, just check the tasty specials at area supermarkets just now.

Winn-Dixie is offering special prices on whole, untrimmed sirloin tips (eight to ten pounds average). And, if that's a bit large for your needs, you can still take advantage of the savings, and have the roast cut in two pieces, reserving one part for a future meal. Or you may decide to get a party together!

And, National is offering boneless rump roasts, while Delchamps offers specials on chuck roasts. And, beef cuts are stars at Jitney Jungle, also, with bottom round steaks going for special prices. So, whatever your needs and your pocketbook and your taste, there's a beef special at one meat counter or the other for you just now!

Chuck roast, an all-time favorite for pot roasts, slowly, slowly simmered with vegetables and seasonings, is one of my longtime standby dishes. It's ever so versatile, adaptable, also, for large or small families, or couples or live-aloners.

I usually divide the chuck roast, reserving the bone-in portion for pot roast or such, and cutting the boneless portion into cubes or strips for stew or other dishes. One such dish is:

EASY BEEF 'N' WINE CASSEROLE

(You may also use the bottom round steak, cubed, for this).

2½ to 3 lbs. bottom round steak, cubed, or the same amount of chuck, cubed

1 can tomatoes

4 carrots, quartered

3 onions, quartered

1 (8 oz.) can button mushrooms, drained

2 ribs celery, chopped

coarsely

1 cup beef stock (or substitute broth from bouillon granules or cubes, or canned consommé, adjusting salt if you do)

Pepper, hot pepper sauce,

salt to taste

1/2 cup burgundy

Parsley

Brown the meat in a heavy skillet, with little or no oil, just a film at the bottom of the skillet, is necessary. Place in a large casserole, and add the vegetables, along with the burgundy wine and the stock, or whatever, and seasonings to your taste.

Cover, and bake at 350 degrees for two hours, a bit more if the meat is not tender at that time, and add wine or stock if needed. I like this served over rice garnished with parsley. You may prefer noodles. (Eight servings)

As for the sirloin tip or rump roast, often I rub a roast liberally with black pepper and Worcestershire sauce, rubbing well into surface, then splash hot pepper sauce over and insert cloves of garlic into several slits in the meat. Then roast, uncovered, at 350 degrees until it reaches the desired doneness.

Beef is not the only star at area supermarkets. Ripley-juicy strawberries beckon from the produce counters, along with tender Spring vegetables and lettuce of all sorts—so we can satisfy our appetites.

MASS OF THANKSGIVING

SUNDAY, APRIL 23, 3 P.M.

ST. CLARE CHURCH

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

America Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The regular monthly meeting of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 139, was held Monday, April 10 at the Legion home.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Janet Aime. The colors were advanced by the color-bearers, Mmes. Chrystie LaFontaine and Margie Schultz.

Mrs. Roslyn Weathers read the prayers, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Lana Noonan led the membership in singing 'America the Beautiful.' Mrs. Aime led the members in the recital of the Preamble.

The secretary, Mrs. Noonan, read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved as read. Mrs. Bobbye Tomlinson, treasurer, reported on the financial status of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Aime spoke of the reports coming due in May, and asked the various committee chairmen to attend a special meeting on Monday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Legion home. She spoke of the resignation of chaplain Mrs. Debbie Collier because of illness. Mrs. Weathers accepted the office for the balance of the year.

Mrs. Susan Piazza, VACS chairman, spoke on the ice cream and cake party for the veterans in Gulfport and the enjoyment the veterans receive from these visits.

Plans are being formulated for the semi-annual 'Miss Lena's party' at the end of the month. This activity is for the veterans from Gulfport and 'live-in' veterans from this area. She also mentioned the clothing drive and how much the veterans appreciate it. So please, when you clean out your closets, give Mrs. Piazza a call at 467-0175, and she'll be very happy to pick clothing up.

The 'Spring Fling' will be April 21, and members and their guests are invited to participate in this activity which promises to be different and interesting.

Mrs. Susan Piazza was nominated for 'Woman of the Year' by the members. Congratulations!

Mmes. Evelyn Burns and Roslyn Weathers were welcomed after being ill for a while, and to all of our members who are ill we extend 'get-well' wishes.

On Thursday, April 6, the auxiliary sponsored the regular monthly 'sing-a-long' at the Hotel Reed Nursing and Retirement home for the residents.

Mrs. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano while Mrs. Roslyn Weathers led the singing and Mrs. Oris Planchard went among the residents to encourage them to participate in the activity. Mrs. Beth Gruzinskas was delighted to see the residents enjoying the music. A good time was had by all.

Mmes. Pat Turnipseed and Juanita Siemssen, volunteers at the home, join us, and the residents welcome them most heartily. (Submitted by Roslyn Weathers)

Diamondhead Boaters Association

The Diamondhead Boaters Association has a new commodore. Jack Willson was unanimously elected during the March 11 annual business/dinner meeting.

He replaces Commodore Tom Ballard who has served vigorously and effectively for the past two years. Some 100 attendees gave him a standing ovation in appreciation of his selfless service.

Mike Dougherty was re-elected to serve a second term as vice-commodore. Commodore Willson announced that the following have agreed to serve an additional term: Bernice Johnston, secretary; and Nina Cotton, social chairperson. E. J. Smith and Billie Jean Barger will assist Nina on the social committee.

In addition, Dave Settle will serve as treasurer and Bud and Liz Barnes as publicity chairpersons.

The evening's brief entertainment included group singing of a medley of old favorite Irish tunes led by Madeline Prima and Dick Alves, and a touching solo rendition of 'Danny Boy' by Dick Alves. All were superbly accompanied by Tom Satterly at the piano.

Approximately 235 names comprise the 1989 Directory of the Boaters Association. Future growth may have to be limited because of the limitation of available facilities to hold functions of the association.

'Fiddler on the Roof,' written by Joseph Stein, is based on the endearing Tevye stories by the short-story writer who called himself Sholom Aleichem.

Tevye is an overworked indomitable milkman in a little Russian village in 1905. He is loveable for his cheerful courage in the face of this troubles—which include his poverty, his sharp-tongued wife, and three daughters of marriageable age for whom, alas, he can provide no dowries.

The show, which includes the memorable songs, 'Sunrise, Sunset,' 'If I Were A Rich Man,' and 'Traditions,' has won several Tony Awards and New York Drama Critics Circle Awards.

MUSICAL MARINER

'Adventure' returns to Mississippi ETV at 8 p.m., Monday, April 24, with the tuneful travels of a 'Musical Mariner.' The series' third season premieres with 'Pacific Journey: Adventures of a Musical Mariner.'

This special two-part follows eccentric adventurer and composer David Fanshawe from the highlands of Papua New Guinea to the islands of the Pacific in search of the pure, original sounds of the region's indigenous music.

EDUCATION SPENDING

Although virtually everyone is in agreement that schools need reform, there is little consensus on the specifics. During the 1987-88 school year, 6.9 percent of the GNP of the United States was spent on education, a 2 percent increase from 1980.

Do we need to spend more on education, or simply spend our money more effectively?

'Learning in America' at 9 p.m., Monday, April 24, on Mississippi ETV, looks at the future of learning in America and discusses who should be 'Paying the Freight.'

Mississippi.

Hancock GED classes discontinue until Sept.

Classes for adults who have not completed high school will discontinue until the beginning of September, 1989.

The instructors and the director express their appreciation for the use of the sites and participation of those individuals involved in the GED preparation program.

Please look in the newspaper for the exact schedule and sites for the GED classes which will soon be forthcoming, or you may call 255-7191 and request to speak to David Kopf.

For two special cruises, the owners of the Pride of Mississippi have agreed to donate one-half of the ticket price to help defray the costs of the 'Coast Encounters' program.

Tickets for these special cruises may be purchased from any Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce for $65 for the Saturday cruise and $55 for the Sunday cruise. Tickets should be purchased by the April 17 deadline.

In addition to the usual live entertainment and Las Vegas games, NASA lecturers will speak in the ship's auditorium. Special exhibits will also be on board the ship and at their terminal on the West Pier of Gulfport harbor.
